Idea Generation:

Under this module, participants learn to stimulate their creativity, understand the process of coming up with new ideas, and learn how to get inspiration from what others are doing. Participants are given tools and techniques to gain an innovative mindset.

Market Research:

The Mentor guides participants through the process of market research for their idea: what's currently being used in the market, who the top competitors are, and what needs to be done to turn an idea into a reality. Participants learn techniques to test, refine and select their idea.

Design Thinking:

Participants learn the process of creative thinking, logical thinking, and experimentation. Mentors share strategies adopted by them for testing and prototyping in order to achieve the perfect product/service for the end-user.

THE CURRICULUM

> This program was an amazing learning experience for me, I especially loved the interactions with our mentors and their insights of the entrepreneurial world.
>
> Arunima Singh
> Grade 12, Shiv Nadar School Gurgaon

Business Model:

Once the student has developed an idea of the product or service startup, they learn what a business blueprint is and how to draw one for their start-up. They delve into information like target markets, competition, anticipated expenses, pricing, and other aspects of a business canvas.

Social Entrepreneurship:

Participants learn about start-up companies that develop, fund, and implement solutions to social, cultural, or environmental issues. The Mentor shares the story of his social entrepreneurship journey and the ups and downs he faced to form a business for the greater social good and not just the pursuit of profits.

Elevator Pitch & Raising Funds:

Participants delve into the costs involved in a business and how it impacts the product/service price. They learn to calculate the total fund required for running the business and what funding sources are available. Participants then move on to crafting an elevator pitch for their business plan.
